

GRAYSTONE LETTINGS - FICTIONAL PROPERTY ADMINISTRATOR

Historical tenancy account, reissued 24 September 2026.

Premises: 7/22 Mangola Street, Katherine NT 0850.

Tenancy identifier: INVALID-KAT-LEASE-XX; trust identifier: INVALID-TRUST-XX.

Tenants: Callum James Hartigan and Samuel Hartigan (cousin).

Callum James Hartigan resided at the Katherine premises from June 2022 to October 2022.

Commencement: 1 June 2022. Vacation and key return: 31 October 2022.

Weekly premises rent: $440.00; Callum's contribution $220.00; Samuel's contribution $220.00.

No actual trust account, bond number, estate licence number or property contact is reproduced.

FILE OPENING AND ROUTINE TENANCY FIELDS

Rental reference and employment contact received before commencement. Condition report acknowledged by both tenants. Meter readings entered on the private property sheet, not reproduced in this export. Keys: two dwelling sets and one mailbox set, all invalid reference tags. Inventory: stove, ceiling fans, window blinds and one fixed laundry tub. No furniture included in rent.

Routine account notes: rent due weekly on Wednesday; electronic receipts split by contributor; no statement that one co-tenant is responsible for the other's personal conduct. Relationship descriptor retained from lease intake: cousin. It is not a conclusion about whether a later reference is independent. The lease account uses the current surname after the registered 2019 change.

Inspection appointment window agreed by email. Repairs to be reported through property administration, with urgent issues separated from routine requests. No child occupant is recorded on the intake sheet. That household field is a tenancy-administration response, not an investigation of the earlier Moulden incident. No reference about the candidate's coaching is supplied by this administrator.

The reissued account retains the original commencement and vacation dates. A bank statement mailing address is a separate financial record; this ledger identifies the residential tenancy itself. Current residence at Gray is not substituted into the historical premises field. Candidate requested the copy for an application and authorised release of his own rent contributions and tenancy dates. Signed for fictional copy release: Faye Orin, 24 September 2026. Contact: tenancy@graystone.example.invalid; telephone 08 7000 0xxx.

Each row is a full premises charge with two equal contributions. The account does not double the rent because there are two payers. Receipts are credited to the week shown. The bank extract records Callum's individual contribution separately; statement posting dates may differ from the rent due date. Rows are retained for ordinary account detail, not as conduct evidence. No late fee or breach notice is entered in this account segment. The payment fields contain no usable routing number. VACATION, MAINTENANCE AND ACCOUNT CLOSE

6 June: kitchen tap drip reported; washer replacement booked with fictional contractor.

9 June: repair completed; no charge to tenant account.

18 July: routine inspection completed; ordinary wear noted on entry mat.

20 July: window latch adjustment requested; included in maintenance visit.

8 September: notice of intended end date received from both tenants.

27 October: final cleaning checklist supplied; mailbox key reminder sent.

31 October: premises vacated; both dwelling key sets and mailbox set returned.

4 November: account reconciliation completed; no rent arrears at closure.

End-of-tenancy fields: bond return handled in private simulated trust sheet; no usable payment details exported. No damage dispute or conduct warning recorded in the supplied tenancy account. This is not a claim that property administration observed every interaction at the premises. It records inspections, maintenance and financial administration for this lease.

The co-tenant descriptor remains Samuel Hartigan (cousin) on the archived intake and closing copy. Neither the administrator nor this ledger assesses the content of a later character reference. The descriptor identifies a relationship supplied for the tenancy file. It should not be deleted merely because a subsequent letter uses a different description.

The requested copy comprises four pages, including twenty-two weekly rent rows. The candidate's residential period is June through October 2022. Reissue in September 2026 changes the date of copying, not the residence period. Contact tenancy@graystone.example.invalid; telephone 08 7000 0xxx.
